

APA style examples

This file typesets just about all useful examples from (APA 8)–(APA 10). Also included are some clarifications from the APA blog (<http://blog.apastyle.org/apastyle/>). Please refer to the `biblatex-apa-test-references.bib` file for details on the references entries. The `.bib` key for each entry in the References section is listed for convenience in the left margin. The keys are not arbitrary and consist of the APA section they are taken from, followed by a colon, followed by the example number. This makes it easier to cross-reference the typeset examples with the commented `.bib` file.

APA 8–Citations

Please see accompanying file `biblatex-apa-test-citations.bib` for the bibliographic entries which these examples use.

(APA 8.6)

Secondary sources. The example in APA 7th is inconsistent with other examples of similar format which use a semi-colon:

```
\parencites{8.6a}[as cited in][8.6b]
↳ (Rabbitt, 1982; as cited in Lyon et al., 2014)
```

To obtain the exact format, if desired, wrap the citation in:

```
\DeclareDelimFormat{multicitedelim}{\addcomma\space}
\DeclareDelimFormat{multicitedelim}{\addsemicolon\space}
```

```
\parencites{8.6a}[as cited in][8.6b]
↳ (Rabbitt, 1982, as cited in Lyon et al., 2014)
```

Primary source with no date:

```
Allport's diary \parencite[as cited in][8.6c]
↳ Allport's diary (as cited in Nicholson, 2003)
```

(APA 8.9)

Such cases are just typed out—they have no Reference section entry and don't therefore have a bibliography database entry.

(APA 8.10)

Simple cite. "Jr." suffix is not shown (bib entry for this example has a suffix):

```
\textcite{8.10a}
↳ Kessler (2003)
```

Testing seasonal periodical citations—should be ignored and only year printed:

```
\textcite{8.10b}
↳ Test (2001)
```

(APA 8.11)

Within a paragraph, not in the narrative sense:

```
\autocite{8.11a}
↳ (Koehler, 2016)
```

Within parentheses, use the `\nptextcite` command which is equivalent to the `\textcite` command but omits the parenthesis and uses commas instead. See the `biblatex-apa` docs.

```
(\nptextcite[see][for more detail]{8.11a})
↳ (see, Koehler, 2016, for more detail)
(e.g., falsely balanced news coverage; \nptextcite{8.11a})
↳ (e.g., falsely balanced news coverage; Koehler, 2016)
\textcite{8.11a} noted the dangers of falsely balanced news coverage.
↳ Koehler (2016) noted the dangers of falsely balanced news coverage.
In \citeyear{8.11a}, \citeauthor{8.11a} noted the dangers of falsely balanced news coverage.
```

↳ In 2016, Koehler noted the dangers of falsely balanced news coverage.

(APA 8.12)

Citing multiple works:

\parencite{8.12a, 8.12b, 8.12c}

↳ (Adams et al., 2019; Shumway & Shulman, 2015; Westinghouse, 2017)

\parencite{8.12d, 8.12e, 8.12f, 8.12g}

↳ (Department of Veteran Affairs, n.d., 2017a, 2017b, 2019)

\parencite{8.12h, 8.12i, 8.12j, 8.12k}

↳ (Zhou, n.d., 2000, 2016, in press)

\parencite{8.12l, 8.12m, 8.12n}

↳ (Carraway et al., 2013, 2014, 2019)

\parencites{8.12o}[see also][{8.12p, 8.12q, 8.12r}

↳ (Sampson & Hughes, 2020; see also Augustine, 2017; Melara et al., 2018; Pérez, 2014)

“in press” should have hyphen before disambiguating part of label

\parencite{8.12s, 8.12t, 8.12u}

↳ (Smidge, 2000, in press-a, in press-b)

(APA 8.13)

Classical and part works:

\parencite[10]{8.13a}

↳ (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 2019, p. 10)

\parencite[Chapter 3]{8.13b}

↳ (Shimamura, 2017, Chapter 3)

\parencite[3--17]{8.13c}

↳ (Armstrong, 2015, pp. 3–17)

\parencite[paras. 2--3]{8.13d}

↳ (Shadid, 2020, paras. 2–3)

\parencite[Table 1]{8.13e}

↳ (Kovačič & Horvat, 2019, Table 1)

\parencite[Slide 7]{8.13f}

↳ (Thompson, 2020, Slide 7)

\parencite[1:30:40]{8.13g}

↳ (Beck Institute for Cognitive Behaviour Therapy, 2012, 1:30:40)

\parencite[1 Cor. 13:1]{8.13h}

↳ (King James Bible, 1769/2017, 1 Cor. 13:1)

\parencite[Part IV]{8.13i}

↳ (Aristotle, ca. 350 B.C.E./1994, Part IV)

\parencite[\nopp1.3.36--37]{8.13j}

↳ (Shakespeare, 1623/1995, 1.3.36–37)

Note the use of \nopp in the Shakespeare example to suppress the pagination prefix since the part specification is auto-detected as a range by biblatex which it then assumes is a page range. Note also the date format for the Aristotle example, see the reference file for the data format—no special formatting is required by the user as biblatex fully supports the relevant parts of the ISO 8601 specification and can parse/format such dates automatically.

(APA 8.14)

Use SHORTTITLE field of the entry if it exists:

\parencite{8.14a}

↳ (Interpersonal Skills, 2019)

Author type	Parenthetical citation	Narrative citation
One author	<code>\parencite{8.17a}</code> (Luna, 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17a}</code> Luna (2020)
Two authors	<code>\parencite{8.17b}</code> (Sales & D’Agostino, 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17b}</code> Sales and D’Agostino (2020)
Three or more authors	<code>\parencite{8.17c}</code> (Martin et al., 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17c}</code> Martin et al. (2020)
Group author with abbreviation First citation	<code>\parencite{8.17d}</code> (National Institute of Mental Health [NIMH], 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17d}</code> National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH, 2020)
Subsequent citations	<code>\parencite{8.17d}</code> (NIMH, 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17d}</code> NIMH (2020)
Group author without abbreviation	<code>\parencite{8.17e}</code> (Stanford University, 2020)	<code>\textcite{8.17e}</code> Stanford University (2020)

Table 1: APA Table 8.1

Articles use quotes instead of italics:

`\parencite{8.14b}`
↳ (“Understanding Sensory Memory,” 2018)

Citing anonymous author:

`\parencite{8.14c}`
↳ (Anonymous, 2017)

(APA 8.15)

Citations with reprint/reissue dates:

`\textcite{8.15a}`
↳ Freud (1900/1953)

`\parencite{8.15b}`
↳ (Piaget, 1966/2000)

(APA 8.16)

This is not a strict rule and so simply use the lower-level citation commands:

`\citeauthor{8.11a}`
↳ Koehler

(APA 8.17)

Basic in-text citation styles:

Authors in narrative citations are separated by “and”. However, in parenthetical cites, authors are separated by “&”:

```
\parencite{8.17f}
  ↳ (Jöreskog & Sörbon, 2007)
\textcite{8.17g}
  ↳ Eifert and Yildiz (2018)
\parencite{8.17h}
  ↳ (American Educational Research Association et al., 2014)
```

Automatic list disambiguation for ambiguous truncations. Note that “et al” is plural so it will only truncate two or more names. If it would truncate just one name, we just give the name:

```
\textcite{8.18a}
  ↳ Kapoor, Bloom, Montez, et al. (2017)
\textcite{8.18b}
  ↳ Kapoor, Bloom, Zucker, et al. (2017)
\textcite{8.18c}
  ↳ Hasan, Liang, Kahn, and Jones-Miller (2015)
\textcite{8.18d}
  ↳ Hasan, Liang, Kahn, and Weintraub (2015)
```

Automatic list disambiguation is only for ambiguous author lists in the same year. This is implied in (APA 8.18) by the phrase “the same in-text citation form”. So these are not disambiguated:

```
\textcite{8.18e}
  ↳ Albert et al. (1990)
\textcite{8.18f}
  ↳ Albert et al. (1991)
```

(APA 8.19)

Citations of works by same authors in the same year:

```
\parencite{8.19a}
  ↳ (Judge & Kammeyer-Mueller, 2012a)
\textcite{8.19b}
  ↳ Judge and Kammeyer-Mueller (2012b)
\parencite{8.19c, 8.19d}
  ↳ (Sifuentes, n.d.-a, n.d.-b)
```

(APA 8.20)

Citations of an entry with an author who shares a surname with another entry always appears with initials when primary author:

```
\parencite{8.20a, 8.20b}
  ↳ (J. M. Taylor & Neimeyer, 2015; T. Taylor, 2014)
```

When initials are also the same, revert to standard format:

```
\parencite{8.20c, 8.20d}
  ↳ (Plumber, 2015; Plumber, 2014)
```

Only the primary author should have initials:

```
\parencite{8.20f, 8.20g, 8.20h, 8.20i, 8.20j}
  ↳ (Brown & Campbell, 2004; A. Campbell et al., 1993; W. K. Campbell et al., 2005; Deutsch & Deutsch, 1963; Smyth et al., 1992)

Authors in same reference with same surname:

```
\parencite{8.20e}
↳ (Chen & Chen, 2019)
```

(APA 8.21)

Group author abbreviations should work between citations of different works by the author:

```
\parencite{8.21a}
↳ (The American Psychological Association [APA], 2017)
\parencite{8.21a}
↳ (APA, 2017)
\parencite{8.21b}
↳ (APA, 2006)
```

Testing suffices

```
\textcite{stest1}
↳ Gring (1968)
\textcite{stest2}
↳ Greaves (1968)
```

Testing prefixes

```
\textcite{pretest}
↳ von Mises (2000)
\textcite{nopretest}
↳ Mises (2001)
```

Testing prefixes plus suffices

```
\textcite{presufftest}
↳ von Greaves (1969)
\textcite{presufftest2}
↳ von Greaves (2001b)
\textcite{nopresufftest}
↳ Greaves (2001a)
```

Testing “and others”

```
\textcite{ao1}
↳ Boker et al. (2011)
\textcite{ao2}
↳ Olive et al. (2014)
```

Testing name elision in cites

```
\parencite{kingetal2005a,weissetal2007a,weissetal2009a}
↳ (King et al., 2005; Weiss et al., 2009; Weiss et al., 2007)
```

Testing citation formats for complete dates

```
\textcite{Ludwig2014}
↳ Ludwig (2014)
```

Testing month ranges with same months, different days

```
\textcite{daterangel}
↳ Furnishings (1984)

American Psychological Association. <https://doi.org/10.1037/14731-006>

This book chapter provides an overview of the psychosociological concept of work-life balance. The authors discuss findings from studies showing harmful effects of work-life conflict on psychological and behavioural health as well as beneficial effects of work-life facilitation, wherein one role makes a positive contribution to the other. The chapter concludes with a description of work-life balance initiatives that organizations have adopted to help employees manage their dual work and nonwork obligations and some of the key factors influencing their effectiveness.

Carlson et al. (2019) conducted an empirical study to examine the multiple paths through which work and family variables can affect work outcomes. Whereas Barber et al. (2016) explored how work obligations can increase stress or enhance fulfillment at home, Carlson et al. viewed work demands as raising family stress, with potential negative consequences on work performance. Results supported a model in which direct effects of work demands and spillover effects of work demands to work-to-family conflict led to a lower job satisfaction and affective commitment, as well as crossover effects of work-to-family conflict, spousal stress transmission, and later family-to-work conflict on organizational citizenship and absenteeism. Overall, the study demonstrated a link from work demands to work outcomes when considering the family, but those paths differed depending on whether attitudinal or behavioural work outcomes were examined.
